WEDDING PLANS HIT

LONDON (Reuters) — A national newspaper today objected to Princess Anne being bridesmaid at the Greek royal marriage next month.

The mass-circulation Daily Sketch said in an editorial the presence of Cyprus President Makarios "fresh from flirtation with Moscow and now dallying with Nasser in Egypt" made the presence of any of the British Royal Family unwelcome.

The Sketch said the Sept. 13 wedding of King Constantine and Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark in Athens will also be attended by Prince Philip, Prince Charles and Prince Michael of Kent.

PAL IN SKY FOR PACIFIC WEATHERMEN

OTTAWA (CP) — The United States' newest weather satellite, sent aloft Friday to begin photographing the global weather picture, may soon help Canadians deal with everything from ice conditions on the Great Lakes to forest fires.

Dr. R. S. Rettie, the National Research Council's officer in charge of satellite reception work, said the council has been receiving about 30 pictures a day from the Nimbus spacecraft and the new system has indicated "enormous potential."

Two areas of Canada should benefit most from the new system, Dr. Rettie said.

"The Pacific Coast will really benefit because up until now forecasting out there has been extremely difficult. The satellite should also be very useful in helping transatlantic aviation from Gander, Nfld."

"Local forecasting in the whole country will benefit as well because forecasters will have more information about Arctic weather conditions."

GREAT POTENTIAL

"The whole business is staggering from the point of view of weather forecasting."

The satellite's findings, combined with other data, will help determine the heat balance of the earth, ice conditions on the Great Lakes, including an indication of when the ice can be expected to break up, flood conditions and even the seriousness of forest fires.

"We will continue to receive the pictures and make them available to the department of transport," Dr. Rettie said.

"The new system will be integrated with their normal forecast procedures."

"We think eventually there will be three to five stations across the country."

One of two receiving sets at NRC headquarters was being shipped today to Frobisher Bay where transport department officials will use it to help navigation in the Arctic Circle.

"This will help systemize things up there," Dr. Rettie said. "They won't have to wait for random searching by boats to discover where the ice is thick or where it has broken up."

Red Chinese Widening The Split

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China has announced officially it will boycott a Soviet-sponsored conference to plan a world Communist meeting. It says the day such a meeting is held "will go down in history as the day of the great split in the international Communist movement."

Peking accused the Soviet Union of siding with the United States in the recent Gulf of Tonkin crisis "by actively supporting the U.S. attempt to intervene in Viet Nam through the United Nations."

MOSCOW (AP) — China has dealt an economic blow to Mongolia, a Communist neighbor supporting Moscow in the Chinese-Soviet quarrel.

Diplomatic sources report that the Chinese government has stopped all transit trade across China to Mongolia. Landlocked between China and the Soviet Union, Mongolia must use longer and more expensive trade routes through Siberia.

ESCAPED MURDERER Rodney Montgomery is still at large despite Manitoba-wide hunt. The 23-year-old slayer of a bank manager escaped from Stony Mountain Penitentiary Friday night. Montgomery was serving life sentence for Blind River, Ont., slaying.

Election Date Soon

LONDON (Reuters) — The date of Britain's fall general election is expected to be announced in about two weeks, reliable political sources said here today.

Makarios Wins Nasser Support

NICOSIA (AP) — President Makarios won a pledge of support today from the United Arab Republic in his dispute with Turkish-Cypriots on troubled Cyprus as anti-U.S. demonstrators continued in Turkey.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser also warned against outside interference in the island's affairs, said a joint communiqué issued in Alexandria at the conclusion of talks between Nasser and Makarios.

However, Nasser did not specifically pledge military support.

Nasser's pledge to Makarios followed official talks between the two men in Alexandria. The United Arab Republic thus followed the lead of Greece and the Soviet Union in promising help if Cyprus were invaded by Turkey.

"The UAR is prepared to provide Cyprus with every possible support for the sake of strengthening the efforts of the Cypriot people in their struggle to safeguard the unity of their island," the communiqué said.

"The two sides agreed that foreign military bases are a threat to international peace," it added.

OBJECTS TO BRITISH

Nasser is known to be opposed to the presence of Western military bases in the eastern Mediterranean. Britain retains two military bases on Cyprus under the 1960 treaty of independence. A British base on Cyprus was used as staging area for the British-French attack on Egypt during the 1956 Suez crisis.

Owner of the roller rink, D. L. Schofield, determined the old record was 32 hours by telephoning other rinks in the Pacific Northwest.

"The rules for non-stop roller skating are simple," Mr. Hartshorne said. "You can't fall down and you can't stop."

This meant he had to keep moving even while eating.

"I felt a little funny eating a steak out of my hand as I went around," he said.

The skater said he went clockwise, counter-clockwise and backwards to relieve the monotony during his 36-hour marathon.

He was all alone in his quest for the record after eight hours and 44 minutes when Danny McDonald, 132 Niagara dropped out.

Mr. Hartshorne suffered no ill effects after the marathon except for fatigue and aching muscles in his right leg.

The 25-year-old shipyard worker said he has been skating nightly during the season for four years. He also plays softball in a local industrial league.

CHILDREN LOOT JEWELRY STORE

Caramels Gave the Gang Away

BRINDISI, Italy (AP) — Police today charged seven members of a child gang, ranging in age from eight to 14, with the daring $30,000 burglary of a jewelry store at nearby Cellino San Marco.

They said the burglars left not a clue but were traced

because some of the boys were handing out caramels too liberally the next day. And one eight-year-old stirred suspicion when he told questions.

"Unless the chief talks, I won't say a word."

Police said the boys climbed through a courtyard window

into the building where the jewelry store owner, Mrs. Rafaella di Marco, lived in rooms adjoining the store. They tiptoed down a corridor past the room where Mrs. di Marco slept, entered the store and got away with all the jewelry on display.

First tip that the job might have been done by youngsters came from a policeman who recalled seeing several boys loitering near the store in the evening. He remembered them because they were not children who live in the neighborhood. The police followed a trail of liberal gifts of candy some boys had been handing out. And that led to the eight-year-old whose words, police said, convinced them they were dealing with a well-organized gang.

AROUND, AROUND, AROUND TO WORLD'S RECORD

By RON SUDLOW

Frank Hartshorne, 139 Cook Street, can't get enough roller skating.

He set what is believed to be a world record of 36 hours and two minutes of nonstop skating over the weekend and then went back for more Sunday evening.

He was one of five skaters who set out on a marathon Friday evening at Schofield Roller Gardens on Niagara Street.

Owner of the roller rink, D. L. Schofield, determined the old record was 32 hours by telephoning other rinks in the Pacific Northwest.

136th Speaker On Tap Today

OTTAWA (CP) — No end to Parliament's flag stalemate was in sight today after a 40-minute meeting of House leaders of four of the five parties in the Commons.

Justice Minister Favreau, government House leader, summed up the meeting this way:

"We have not been able to agree on a formula that would allow us to establish an intermediate mode of proceeding" as between the positions of the government and the Progressive Conservatives.

Mr. Favreau said various compromise proposals were discussed and that the House leaders probably will meet again Friday after briefing their party caucuses Wednesday.

The minister conferred in his office with Gordon Churchill of the Conservatives, Stanley Knowles of the New Democrats and Charles-Arthur Gauthier of the Creditistes.

It was their second meeting on the flag in four days.

The only positive decision from the meeting was agreement of the opposition parties with the government's proposal that the Commons not sit the Labor Day holiday, Sept. 7.

FOUR DAYS

In the Commons last week, Mr. Knowles proposed that the House set aside Mondays for consideration of legislation such as the Canada Pension Plan. It now sits Monday through Thursday on the flag and takes up departmental appropriations on Friday.

Mr. Favreau said then that if the House made up the lost flag time by sitting until mid-night Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, and if all parties agreed to end the flag debate by Sept. 30.

The Conservatives have called this "legislation by exhaustion" and have refused to consider a time limit.

However, Mr. Churchill and Mr. Knowles both said hopefully that if meetings such as today's are continued there is bound to be a solution to the impasse eventually. Mr. Churchill said he agreed with the Knowles proposal that Mondays be reserved for legislation.

PARTIES CLOSER

When asked whether he felt the parties are closer to compromise, Mr. Favreau replied with a quiet "yes."

Meanwhile, the Commons prepared for its 17th day of debate on the flag. The first speaker rising today was the 136th since the talkathon began June 15.

The Conservatives have so far contributed 88 speeches in their defence of Red Ensign and the retention of historic symbols.

The Liberals have spoken 29 times, and all but one speech in defence of the proposed maple-leaf flag. The three smaller parties have a combined total of 18 speeches.

HOUSE APPLAUDS

RCMP Denies Coldwell Spied Upon

OTTAWA (CP) — Justice Minister Favreau said emphatically today in the Commons that the RCMP has never investigated M. J. Coldwell, former national leader of the CCF party, "or found any cause to do so."

The statement was greeted by an all-party outburst of desk-thumping applause.

Stanley Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre) had asked Mr. Favreau about a statement by Calvin Macdonald, self-styled former RCMP undercover agent, that he spied on Mr. Coldwell in 1960 on RCMP orders. The allegation was made Saturday in Barrie.

Mr. Favreau said he had anticipated the question. The RCMP files had been checked thoroughly and there was never such an investigation.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker termed Mr. Macdonald's statement "beyond contempt." He said all MPs were delighted to hear Mr. Favreau's reply.

Mr. Coldwell, now living in retirement in Ottawa, headed the CCF party from 1942 until 1958. He was member of Parliament for Rosetown-Biggar, a Saskatchewan seat, from 1935 until his defeat in the 1958 general election. He was appointed to the Privy Council in June.

Triumvirate Promised Two Months' Support

SAIGON (AP) — A student virile names men to the promised national assembly who are unacceptable to the students. Ton That Tue, a member of the newly formed leadership council of Saigon students, told a press conference such demonstrations would be organized only as a last resort.

Le Dinh Dieu Cam, a vice-president in the new student organization, said students considered the triumvirate created last week unstable but added that the students, for the sake of "solidarity of the people, will support the government for two months. After that our attitude will depend on the situation."

The triumvirate is supposed to appoint a representative national assembly within two months. The assembly in turn is supposed to appoint a new chief of state.

RAPS GOVERNMENT

Dieu condemned the government for last week's rioting in Viet Nam which he said cost at least 20 lives. He said it was the duty of the government to protect lives and property.

Rioting began Aug. 23 when a student anti-government mob sacked the government radio station. Student rioters smashed the lower floor of the information ministry the following day and led tens of thousands to Maj.-Gen. Nguyen Khanh's office, finally winning Khanh's promise to resign as president. He and two other generals make up the triumvirate.

The government has warned that any further violence in the streets will be met with force. It is also pressing a search for Communists it accuses of fomenting Buddhist-Roman Catholic rioting.

The government said 449 persons, including some Communists, have been rounded up in Saigon so far.

An army announcement said troops would shoot at demonstrators who refuse to obey orders. For a time last week soldiers watched while Catholic and Buddhist youths battled in the streets with machetes, bricks and other weapons.

Calm has been restored in Saigon. A funeral procession of 50,000 Catholics passed through a Buddhist section without incident Sunday as the bodies of six Catholics killed Friday were borne to their graves.

Catholic priests called the victims martyrs during an hour-long mass at San Sa Chau Church. A Buddhist monk attended as representative of the Buddhist Association in a display of unity.

CURFEW IN EFFECT

Despite the surface calm in Saigon, a curfew remained in effect today. Schools were to remain open Thursday.

The appointment of R. Nguyen Xuan Oanh, 43, as acting premier gave a semblance of stability to the government. But whether the Harvard-educated economist would remain at the helm remained uncertain.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor flew Sunday to the mountain resort of Dalat, 140 miles northeast of Saigon, to confer with ailing Premier Nguyen Khanh. U.S. officials believe Khanh will return to office soon.

Draft Notice

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban youths of 16 were under notice Sunday to register for the draft. However, government sources said there was no intention to call them to the colors until after they have passed their 17th birthdays.

Nuclear Power Developments Will Make Hydro Uneconomic

GENEVA (CP)—An international gathering of experts on peaceful uses of atomic energy was told today that the type of nuclear power station developed by Canada "will remain competitive with all others, yet foreshadowed, certainly for tens of years and perhaps for centuries."

Dr. W. B. Lewis, one of Canada's top nuclear scientists, said that once the Canadian-type power stations are producing electricity, it will be uneconomical to develop remote hydro-electric sites in Canada.

Dr. Lewis, scientific vice-president of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, made the statements in a paper delivered here at the third United Nations International Conference on the Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy.

The type of plant pioneered by Canada uses natural uranium as a fuel. Heavy water makes the atomic fission process possible and also removes heat from the power reactor to raise steam to drive electric turbines.

The advent of nuclear power possibilities had reversed the prospect faced over the last 30 years by industry of having the cost of electricity on a steady rise. Now there was a prospect that the greater the demand, the lower the cost.

The scientific head of the Canadian government's nuclear research agency was referring to power plants producing up to 500,000 kilowatts of electricity.

"Uses for electricity previously thought extravagant are appearing such as heating of houses and buildings and drive-way de-icing in winter, balanced by air conditioning in summer," he said.

Dr. Lewis said the cost of producing electricity with large-scale nuclear stations of Canadian design is expected to be less than the cost of generating power at remote hydro sites and transmitting it long distances to consuming areas.

Dr. Lewis said that after 1980 most of the new electric generating stations being built in Ontario should be nuclear and that the same situation may exist in Quebec. For Ontario he forecast that the annual installation rate will be about 1,200,000 kilowatts.

SHOULD BE NUCLEAR

New electric plants in the Atlantic provinces, excluding Newfoundland, should also be nuclear, the annual capacity required being about 300,000 kilowatts. In Western Canada the first nuclear generating station would probably be under construction in Manitoba.

Present forecasts were that the total Canadian annual requirement for new nuclear plants in the early 1980s should range from 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 kilowatts. The bulk of this would be in southern Ontario, which has used up all of its hydro resources.

Dr. Lewis said that installed nuclear capacity in Ontario could reach 5,000,000 kilowatts by 1980. There was no clear requirement for nuclear stations elsewhere in Canada before 1980 unless Quebec was unable to develop all of its large remote hydro-electric sites "at costs resulting in delivered power to load centres competitive with nuclear power."

POLICE CLUBS were still swinging today in North Philadelphia but incidents grew less as quiet returned to riot-bruised city.

AFTER WEEKEND VIOLENCE

Tense, Uneasy Peace Returns to Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A tense, uneasy quiet returned to the riot-ravaged Negro section of north Philadelphia today, after a weekend of violence, looting, and pillaging.

Sporadic vandalism, window smashing and throwing of rocks at police continued into the early morning hours, but city and police officials said the situation remained under control and the four-square-mile trouble zone was returning to relatively normal operations. About 28 persons were arrested.

Some 1,500 police continued to saturate the area, as the police radio relayed sporadic reports of window smashing and looting, mostly on the fringes of the north Philadelphia section, which remained under a 24-hour curfew.

The police force in the section varied from 600 to the present 1,500 during the three days of strife.

Mayor H. J. Tate emphasized that a clear-the-streets order, issued Saturday, remained in effect. The proclamation, falling under an 1850 law, made it a misdemeanor, with a maximum penalty of two years in prison, for anyone to be on the streets without legitimate business.

Tate, in a progress statement made late Sunday night, some 50 hours after the Negro rioting broke out, reported that 225 stores had been looted and more than 350 persons arrested for various violations. The injured totalled 247, including 66 policemen. Almost all of the injuries were minor and there were no fatalities.

There was one shooting reported. Police said Robert Green, 21, a Negro, was wounded Saturday night when he pulled a knife on a patrolman who was chasing persons throwing cans at a patrol car.

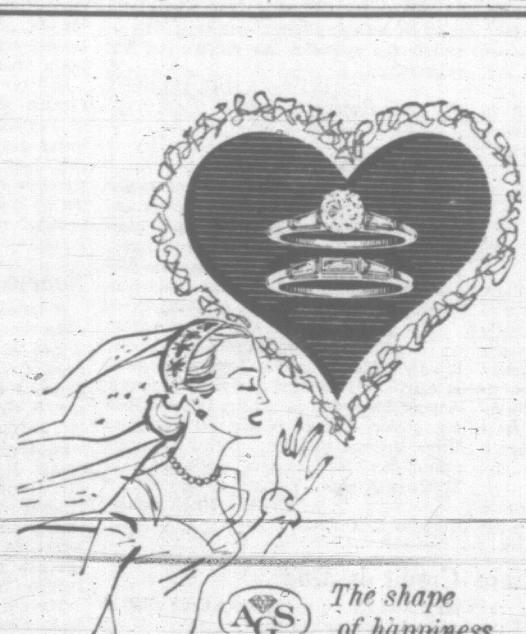

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called upon the federal government to investigate the riots in Philadelphia as well as in other northern cities, suggesting that the riots were planned.

Wilkins, in a telegram to Attorney-General Robert F. Ken-

Moon Photos Prove Little?

LA JOLLA, Calif. (UPI) — Nobel prize-winner Harold Urey today was in disagreement with scientists who believe Ranger 7's historic moon photos prove the lunar surface is strong enough to support manned spacecraft.

"I don't see that the pictures show the depth of the dust on the moon's surface," said the chemist. "As of now it's thickness is a matter of guess."

Urey said the photos were "interesting, a marvelous engineering success," but "I believe nothing except tests of the strength of the moon's surface will answer those important questions about its sturdiness."

An Era of Frustration

WHAT MUST HAVE APPEARED in Prime Minister Pearson's mind as a timely device to advance the unity of Canada by reassuring Quebec that Canadianism would be given priority over lingering British influences—that is, a distinctively Canadian flag—has now emerged as anything but that. The proposal has not only roused unexpectedly strong opposition in the non-French areas of Canada; it has degenerated into a political shuttlecock, a device to be used by the Opposition to embarrass and possibly unseat the government.

But in the same vein, what must have appeared to Mr. Diefenbaker as an excellent opportunity to utilize sentiment against Quebec—as once he tried to enlist it against the United States—and boost his own western stock as the champion of the British heritage in Canada, has equally proved a boomerang. For Mr. Diefenbaker now finds that in stalling the choice of a flag he is also stalling the pressing business of parliament. And instead of rousing sentiment and popular favor for himself he is inciting instead impatience and public resentment.

In six years in office, Mr. Diefenbaker earned a reputation for injuring Canada's relations with its friends (Britain and the United States), and fumbling with the nation's affairs through an inability to make decisions and lead. Now, because the government controls only a minority of parliamentary votes, he finds himself in a position to do much the same thing.

He has been able to stall and delay and sidetrack the business of the nation to a point where his own party is dismayed and fearful of the consequences among the voters. He has alienated Quebec from the Conservative Party for at least a generation to come, also to the dismay of his own political followers. And he has betrayed a personal ambition to regain the prime ministership that appears to have driven him beyond the bounds of practical politics. The paradox seems to be that his party could only regain power by removing him from leadership and rebuilding under a new man.

The tragic thing for Canada is that Mr. Diefenbaker's effects extend far beyond his own organization. Parliament today suffers from as low level of public respect as it has had for many a decade. Its ineffectiveness can in a large measure be laid at Mr. Diefenbaker's door. A leading politician in a time of critical stress within the nation, he has done nothing to help unify the people; on the contrary he seems to have been prepared to sacrifice that unity if it would advance his own political fortunes. The effect has been to widen the English-French schism, insofar as it exists in this country, and help polarize political thinking along racial lines.

This is not a healthful condition for any electorate. It is found today in the southern States of our neighbor, although the upheaval of the civil rights controversy there has tended to remove the geographical compartmentalization that heretofore has prevailed so that the parties will be more evenly represented in south and north.

The heavy political weapons, which could cope with Mr. Diefenbaker's tactics, have been denied to the government. Mr. Pearson could not go to the country in a general election in the past few months since the country was opposed to a fifth ballot within seven years. And he is deterred from using the logical device of closure to end the flag debate because this has unreasonably become tainted as a sure-death boomerang for any government that employs it.

The prospect is that this parliament will fumble on, achieving little, and slowly accumulating a weight of public dissatisfaction and distrust that will bury its members, good and poor, active and passive, deserving and undeserving, at the first opportunity.

Who and what will replace them cannot be predicted. But this is an unhappy time for Canada. It could be a dangerous one.

Let's Examine the Thing Itself

THE EXTREME PAROCHIALISM of some Oak Bay and Saanich municipal representatives, their fear of anything that is even suggestive of a loss of neighborhood sovereignty for the benefit of the whole community, is driving them into wild statements about the current proposal for a joint services board.

The latest is Reeve Cox's charge that the Municipal Affairs Minister's proposal is being forced, that it will be imposed on the municipalities against their will. Apart from the fact that municipal leaders themselves ought to be insisting on the joint board for greater efficiency in sewers, parks and other mutual services, Mr. Cox's fears are in direct contradiction to the minister's statements.

Earlier, Councillor Casey publicly feared that the proposed joint board to manage services which apply to all municipalities was merely the thin edge of the wedge leading to full amalgamation. From his first suggestion of the joint arrangement, the minister, Mr. Campbell, has stressed that he is not sold on amalgamation as an answer to metropolitan problems and that he sees great advantages in preserving the smaller municipal entities for local affairs.

Why do not the opponents of the joint services concept stop setting up straw men and knocking them down? If they would concentrate on the real purposes and advantages of the joint board proposal they would find they had little to fight against.

Idleness and Violence

THE MOST PERSISTENT criticism of the American civil rights movement—a criticism heard frequently even among those who claim to be sympathetic to it—is that the Negro is trying to go too fast and too far.

While there can be no denying that some of the violence which has occurred in wild Negro demonstrations recently, particularly in northern American cities, can be blamed on lawless elements among the Negroes, much of it can be blamed on what the Negroes consider the slow pace being set by moderate civil rights leaders. Not too fast and too far, these demonstrators claim, but too slow and not far enough.

Some recent statistics obtained by the New York Times from the United States department of labor bear out the contention that whatever progress may have been made in integration of schools and places of public accommodation in recent years, the hard-core issue of employment—the opportunity for Negroes to make a decent living—is still relatively untouched. In some ways, in fact, the Negro employment situation is worse now than it was 10 years ago and it is held responsible by many observers for the eruptions of violence which they blame on the frustrations of younger Negroes.

For instance, according to the figures obtained by the New York Times, 25 per cent of the male Negro teen-agers who are in the labor force are out of work. In addition, the jobless rate among Negro teen-age boys, which was only slightly higher than that among their white counterparts 10 years ago, is now nearly twice as high.

Labor officials point out that the marked disparity between the two groups cannot be accounted for by different population growth rates for both groups by just under 50 per cent in the period reviewed. The familiar explanation of lower education qualifications among the Negroes is not readily accepted, either, since both groups contain about the same ratio in the 14-year-old to 19-year-old classifications.

Labor officials point out that the cold fact seems to be that employers generally will hire white youths before Negro youths and the disparity, which must be markedly evident in any city with a high Negro population, is a cause of considerable bitterness.

The right to vote when they reach majority, the right to go into any cafe or theatre, the right to ride on any bus or train must all seem meaningless to an unemployed Negro youth who sees a bleak economic future stretching out ahead. The high unemployment rate of young Negroes does not condone the violence in which they have taken part; it does go a long way toward explaining the roots of the violence.

FROM WASHINGTON

Johnson or Goldwater? Some Choice!

THE Democratic convention nominated its two candidates by acclamation, adopted its platform without controversy, and dealt with the divisive in the Mississippi and Alabama delegations without opening up any irreparable sectional quarrel. This remarkable performance was due, everyone agrees, to the fact that President Lyndon Johnson was in complete control of the convention. The interesting question is why he had such complete control of the convention. Quite evidently he is a great politician, but what is the secret of his greatness as a politician?

The secret begins with a refusal to believe that the racial, sectional, economic and ideological differences in this country are irreconcilable. There may be irreconcilable issues. But in the Johnson creed, which is the old American creed, there are no issues that are irreconcilable among Americans.

In his philosophy there is always a way in which, even if the issues cannot be settled, a livable accommodation can be found. In the art of finding accommodation he is a great master, because he has, in exceptionally high degree, the gift of putting himself inside other men's skins, the gift of knowing how it feels to be on one side or the other of a conflict.

The ability to put himself in other men's places, and to argue their case as well as they can argue it themselves, is disarming and most persuasive in a public man. It is the method of effective negotiation. The last stage of the art is to induce the contestants to welcome the accommodation, having persuaded them to feel that it is their own.

These intangible qualities, which tend to become oversimplified when put into words, are the characteristics of the effective peacemakers, conciliators and harmonizers. A good example of the art is the way in which Sen. Hubert Humphrey came to be nominated by acclamation.

The Vice Presidency has become a great prize, and at the beginning of the Johnson tenure in the White House it was by no means settled and certain that he would be able to make the party accept anyone he chose to name.

The stakes were very high, being no less than the future control of the party. If any of the available candidates had been encouraged, if President Johnson had at the beginning named his own favorite, the result would probably have been a bloody and nasty factional fight.

We know now how, by a combination of surgery and massage, the President put himself in the position of naming for the Vice Presidency the man that the convention and the party had come to want to have named.

Mr. Johnson and Humphrey are a very strong ticket. Unlike the traditional ticket in which the two candidates are meant to complement each other, these two men duplicate each other. They are the same breed of public man. For Humphrey, too, though he is a brilliant controversialist, is by instinct a peacemaker, conciliator and harmonizer. Both men have proved that they know how to make our difficult system of government work.

Sen. Barry Goldwater has certainly achieved what he said he was trying to achieve—namely, that there should be a choice and not an echo. In this election there is a clear choice. It is between Goldwater and Miller on the one hand and Mr. Johnson and Humphrey on the other hand. Some choice.

they are obviously show places enjoyed by the general public? It is not fair that hotel visitors should be charged in their overall accounts for such unwanted luxury.

I came here intending to stay for about 14 days, but after four I shall be back in Vancouver living in a lovely, modern motel for considerably less than it costs for this very antiquated place which at half what it charges would still be no bargain.

Which Bible?

Mr. E. W. Abraham scolds the Baptists and others who would make the Bible more suitable to put in the hands of young children. The effort to make religious literature understandable to young minds is very commendable and Mr. Abraham's biblical-implications will arouse only pitying smiles in the modern educated mind.

At the time of Jesus there was no Bible in our sense of the word, as the Jewish canon was not closed until the Synod of Jamnia, about A.D. 90. Fundamentally, therefore, "the Bible as Christ knew it" consisted of the Hebrew Scriptures classified in three divisions and embodied in leather rolls preserved in the synagogues.

For many generations history and legends, songs and poems, myths and laws had been handed down until the middle of the ninth century B.C. they were gathered together and written down. The resulting document is known as "J" since it originated in Judea. The same was done in Israel by people who did not know of "J". The second document is known as "E" for Ephraim (Israel) and Elohim (God). In the seventh century came Deuteronomy or "D".

Mr. Abraham is well aware that Jesus spoke Aramaic as did the Apostles. The Jewish records were written in Hebrew some of which were later translated into Greek (about 200 B.C.). Then Jerome translated the Hebrew version into Latin, the Vulgate, which is the official Bible of the Roman Church.

One obvious conclusion to be drawn from these facts is that there are many Bibles and they are translations or copies or both.

If Mr. Abraham is defending the King James Authorized version or the Douay Bible or the Revised Standard Bible he should tell us so.

Visitor Complains

It seems to me that it is time proprietors of motor hotels, motels, and such like modern tourist institutions band together to prevent all and sundry advertising their overnight accommodation in terms that bear no resemblance to what they offer.

A case in point: I flew 3,000 miles to this city to honor a reservation I had for a room in the motor lodge of a well-known firm. I cannot describe my consternation when I beheld (1) what was advertised as a motor lodge and (2) the dark, dingy, decrepit room, right in the eaves of the building which I supposedly would occupy for 12-14 days.

I complained in very vehement terms, and was given keys for 3 other rooms. One was slightly brighter than the others and certainly has a beautiful view of the harbor from a very small dormer window. Another room offered to me had a window so high up, a ladder would have been necessary to allow me to see anything beyond the walls of the dingy, poorly furnished room.

How can three top floors of a very old hotel suddenly become a motor lodge without even a brushful of paint applied to cover up the poor state of the decorations? The plumbing and lighting are as inefficient as any I have encountered in small, privately-owned country inns. Radio and TV are just not available in bedrooms in this "motor lodge."

But the gardens, lawns and conservatories are magnificent! Should not the city be responsible for their upkeep since they are obviously show places enjoyed by the general public? It is not fair that hotel visitors should be charged in their overall accounts for such unwanted luxury.

BOBBY COULD DO IT IN NEW YORK RACE

New Image for Carpetbaggers

By EDWARD T. POLLARD

WASHINGTON—If Attorney-General Robert F. Kennedy is elected U.S. senator for New York, he might bring about a profound change in American politics.

A Kennedy victory would be a blow to the "carpetbagger" argument—that is, the cry now heard that the attorney-general is a registered voter of Massachusetts and a resident of Virginia, and that therefore he would be an intruder in the Empire State.

Also, a Kennedy victory might start a trend that could give American politics a British flavor.

In Britain anyone can stand for Parliament for any constituency. Sir Winston Churchill lives in Westerham, southeast of London, but represents Woodford, a suburb northeast of London, in the House of Commons.

Harold Macmillan represents Bromley, a London suburb, but lives in Sussex, 40 miles away.

Harold Wilson, leader of the Labour Party, is a Yorkshireman, lives in London and has his constituency in Huyton, a Liverpool suburb, 200 miles from the capital.

No Churchill

William Pitt Lambert, in a letter to the New York Herald Tribune the other day, reflected that newspaper for its editorial stand against the Kennedy-for-Senator boom. He said such a line of reasoning "would have cost Britain its world leader, Sir Winston Churchill," since the wartime prime minister represents an area in which he does not live.

Lambert went on to say: "If the Buckleys and such are unable to produce statements from their backrooms or cellars and if the people who now pay $33,000 to the senators desire to import a Borah of Idaho, a Taft or a Douglas of Illinois to provide adequate representation, they should have that right."

Frightening

However reasonable this argument may seem to Lambert and others, it frightens many politicians, including some now in the United States Senate.

A senator may hold what he regards as a "safe" seat, safe in the sense that he fears no competition from within his state. But where would be his security if it became the practice to import attractive candidates from other states.

The New York Times is many other newspapers in that state, has been criticizing Attorney-General Kennedy for seeking the seat of Senator Kenneth B. Keating, a Republican first-terminer.

Keating, in announcing this week that he would run for a second term, again withheld an endorsement of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican nominee for president.

Keating was applauded for his courage, but it could cost him the votes of pro-Goldwater Republicans.

Less Valid Now

It contends that the real issue is whether New York is so povety-stricken for United States Senate material that it has to import a young man "so obviously a non-resident that he is a Massachusetts delegate to the Democratic national convention."

James (Scooty) Reston, chief of the Washington bureau of the New York Times, does not go along with his editors. In his column Reston said that the carpetbagger cry "is probably a less valid argument today than it was a generation or so ago."

He went on to say: "This is no longer a continent of isolated communities whose problems can be understood only by long-time local residents, but a vast mobile society where the problems of New York are not so different from the problems of Massachusetts."

However the Kennedy-for-Senator boom may have started, there is no mystery about the identity of those who are keeping it going—or why.

The Democratic professionals in New York say they want Kennedy because he would be a winner. They say they have been taking a continuing poll for months and that this shows he could defeat Sen. Keating on Nov. 3.

Not only do these pros say each branch of the bush varieties of tomatoes, and remove all the flowers.

It is not good practice to remove leaves since they are needed for the manufacture of food for the plants.

Tomatoes will ripen just as well in the shade of leaves as in the open, providing the air temperature is high enough.

We should be prepared to bring in a few tomato plants this year to hang by their heels from the rafters in a shed, greenhouse, basement or utility room, there to ripen the fruits in succession.

They will have a better flavor than any we might pick green and try to ripen by other means.

Mrs. Luce Abandons Third-Party Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Republicans meet today in a supercharged political atmosphere to renominate Senator Kenneth Keating and cheer him into battle against U.S. Attorney-General Robert F. Kennedy.

The party is more optimistic about Keating's chances of withstanding the challenge by Kennedy because of Clare Boothe Luce's decision Sunday not to run as a third-party candidate.

Republican leaders had feared she would have drawn a substantial number of votes from Keating. He won election six years ago by 133,000 votes.

Mrs. Luce said she withdrew in a spirit of Republican unity. Her decision eliminated a threat by the state Republican organization to withdraw support from the national ticket of Senator Barry Goldwater and

Security-Plus As Malaysians Mark Birthday

KUALA LUMPUR (Reuters) The Malaysian federation today celebrates its first anniversary amid strict security precautions and under the shadow of neighbouring Indonesia's continued pledge to "crush" the young nation.

The 10,000,000 population Malaysian federation, linking Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and Sabah (North Borneo) held informal celebrations during the day to mark the anniversary.

But security was the watchword as police patrolled the decorated streets of this capital in pairs. Heavy guards were placed on public buildings and road blocks were set up at some points.

At least one foreign mission instructed its staff to stay close to home because of persistent rumors of terrorist incidents or new guerrilla landings which have been circulating during the past week.

FIGHTING CLAIMS 30

About 30 Malaysians, Britons, Indonesians and British-led Gurkha troops were believed to have died in fighting in the 20-month-old jungle fighting in North Borneo.

Indonesia regards the federation as a British "neo-colonialist plot."

Ten separate attempts at finding a peaceful settlement have come to nothing, including a Nemps by U.S. Attorney-General Robert Kennedy and Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia.

Celebrations opened today with a rally of 10,000 school children attended by the king and queen of Malaysia, the visiting dowager Queen Rambai Narni of Thailand, and Malaysian Premier Tunku Abdul Rahman.

While the capital was full of rumors of new landings, at Pontian, southwest Malaya, troops were still hunting more than 40 Indonesian guerrillas who landed in the region Aug. 17.

Highway Bids Called

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Plans are going ahead for the Yellowhead route linking central B.C. with Alberta. Highways Minister Gagliardi said Sunday. One 27-mile contract now is open for tenders and a second contract for construction near Blue River will be prepared immediately, he said.

World Marks Tumble

Arnie and Jack had to be content with secondary prizes again Sunday when Nichols, 28-year-old PGA champion, walked off with the game's biggest tournament haul of the year, the $35,000 first prize in the $200,000 Carling world golf championship.

Palmer finished second, one stroke behind Nichols' winning 278 for four rounds over the tough Oakland Hills course.

It was the fifth time in seven tournaments that Palmer, the defending money-making champion, had come in second. In the other two tournaments, he was third.

"I'm getting darned tired of it," Palmer said. "I hope it doesn't become a habit."

NICKLAUS 11TH

Nicklaus, who hasn't won a major championship this year, fell farther behind. He tied for 11th at 286 and collected $2,800. It was the first time in two months that he hadn't placed at least in the top six.

Since the Masters, which Palmer won, the big two have captured only three tournaments between them. Palmer won at Oklahoma City and Nicklaus the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas and the White Marsh near Philadelphia.

Nicklaus stopped in the best-of-seven series.

Nestman stopped several point-blank shots in the third period and finished with 18 saves on 22 shots fired at his cage.

Fred Usselman collected three power-play goals to pace Vancouver. Sid Warwick and Garry Stevens each potted a pair for the winners.

Paul Parnell, with two tallies, Cliff Sepka and Jack Barclay handled the New Westminster scoring.

Old Skill, Lacking

The return to football action was far from glorious Sunday for former members of Victoria Vettes.

They took a 25-0 trimming at Central Park from the current edition of the Vettes.

HEARD THE CROWD

"Sure, I knew Arnie made an eagle at the 12th," said Nichols, playing in the final three-some just back of the Latrobe larrauer. "I heard the roars and the fans always let you know a thing like this."

But Nichols, a six-foot-two all-round athlete from Louisville, Ky., refused to be flustered.

The $35,000 prize boosted him into the top five of the money winners with $72,087.26.

Gary Player of South Africa won third money with a 72 for 281. Fourth was shared by Ben Hogan and Pete Brown, from Los Angeles, at 282. Hogan shot a final 68 and Brown a 69.

Al Balding and Alvie Thompson of Toronto, the only survivors of the eight-man Canadian contingent, finished well down the list. Balding won $640 for his 297 and Thompson $400 for his 302.

Heard the crowd.

United Scores 10 Against Navy Side

Victoria United flashed some touches of mid-season form and scampered to a 10-0 victory over Navy in an exhibition soccer match Sunday at Topaz Park.

George Paul, Roy Hamilton and Ash Waldal each counted twice for the Pacific Coast League side. Jim Jamieson, Russ Ball, Ted Robb and Bill Cameron added singles.

Gary Player of South Africa won third money with a 72 for 281. Fourth was shared by Ben Hogan and Pete Brown, from Los Angeles, at 282. Hogan shot a final 68 and Brown a 69.

United Scores 10 Against Navy Side

Victoria United flashed some touches of mid-season form and scampered to a 10-0 victory over Navy in an exhibition soccer match Sunday at Topaz Park.

George Paul, Roy Hamilton and Ash Waldal each counted twice for the Pacific Coast League side. Jim Jamieson, Russ Ball, Ted Robb and Bill Cameron added singles.

The return to football action was far from glorious Sunday for former members of Victoria Vettes.

They took a 25-0 trimming at Central Park from the current edition of the Vettes.

"Sure, I knew Arnie made an eagle at the 12th," said Nichols, playing in the final three-some just back of the Latrobe larrauer.

I heard the roars and the fans always let you know a thing like this."

Passing Plays Collapse; Mustangs, Raiders Fall

Pass defence was the big thing Sunday in the Vancouver Island Juvenile Football League.

Victoria Mustangs tossed 11 forward passes at Carnarvon Park, failed to complete any of them, had three intercepted and took a 34-8 thumping from Nanaimo Redmen.

At Campbell River, the Raiders took to the air four times against Victoria Hornets. Three tosses were intercepted, two by defensive halfback Ed Anslow, and Hornets celebrated their debut in the league by chalking up a 14-6 triumph.

Results left Redmen, the defending Island champions, all alone in first place with two straight victories and Hornets tied with Mustangs for second place in the five-team league.

Mustangs, who had been expected to give the powerful Redmen a tough tussle after whipping Campbell River 64-0 in their first game, couldn't get together

Road to Being Beautiful Begins With Cleanliness

By PENNY SAVER

It has been said and written time and again that one very seldom sees a "born" beauty. Most are self-made. These are the women who have time, taste and good judgment. They have created their own looks.

Living as we do today, with unbending schedules, diets and tensions, there are very few of us who don't need help of some kind.

Real beauty begins with cleanliness, for no complexion can look its best while pores are clogged with dirt and oil.

Today I'd like to give you a few ideas on how to keep your particular skin type clean and fresh.

An ideal cleanser for those with a dry skin type and oily patches around nose and eyes is a triple formula cleanser that sells from $2.25 up. This mild and milky solution copes with and cleanses skins subject to both flakiness and oiliness and helps to retain moisture in dry skin.

Newest cleanser is in the line of a combination toner and conditioner that looks and feels like fresh cold spring water and leaves your skin feeling tighter and brighter.

It is available in compact non-woven squares that are ideal for packing along in purse or suitcase for a quick refreshing. Packets sell at 20 for $4.

Once your skin has been properly treated at the start of a day it is not hard to keep it looking fresh and moist all day long. But, to ensure this, here are two more products I'd like to tell you about:

The first is a special rose-tinted moisture cream that is designed to hold surface moisture and keep dryness at a minimum. It helps to replace natural oils and is recommended as a lubricating cream for young skins—normal or oily. Price is $2.50 or $3.75.

The second is another cream that encourages surface stimulation and is an excellent treatment for blemished skin. Combine the two and you have a perfect base for turning an exhausting day into the start of a perfect evening.

Herbert Hoover Considers Youth Precious Resource

The distinguished American, Herbert Hoover, celebrated his 90th birthday on August 10. I know of no one who so typifies the spirit of youth as Mr. Hoover.

He has always been deeply concerned with what he calls, "our most precious natural resource—youth." At the age of 90, and after a serious illness, he is still vitally interested in the Boys Clubs of America.

He has stated that his goal is 1,000 Boys Clubs for 1,000,000 deserving boys. Of course the expansion program for Boys Clubs will never end but it will concentrate on this goal during the rest of this year.

Today there are 600 clubs with 600,000 members. These clubs promote juvenile decency instead of juvenile delinquency and teams instead of gangs. They promote healthy exercise, provide hobby training and a place to read and do homework. They are havens for these boys.

Mr. Hoover's interest in youth goes back to World War I. He played a large part in saving the lives of hundreds of thousands of Belgian children. His work in breaking the food blockade of that country has been forgotten by many. He not only got supplies through, but arranged for special balanced meals for Belgian youngsters long before the "hot lunch at school" was ever thought of.

It sure isn't style that sells the Volvo 544.

Let's see what does. First, the 544 gets over 30 miles to the gallon like the little economy cars. Second, the 544 out-accelerates other popular-priced compacts in every speed range. Third, the 544 is virtually indestructible and proves it at trade-in time. Now if you think a compact should be stylish, we also have the Volvo Canadian. It does everything the 544 does only it looks prettier doing it. Next time you have a dull moment on your hands, come in and drive a Volvo. It'll liven up your day.

Push the profit button

Telephones with pushbuttons on them are one of today's biggest aids to greater business efficiency (and, therefore, to greater profits). They are as convenient as having a miniature switchboard right at your finger tips and can prove a particular boon to expanding office operations.

With the compact six-button telephone, for example, you can receive outside calls on up to four separate lines, hold them and have them transferred. With the 18-button Call Director, you can do all these things several times over.

There is almost no limit to the versatility of these "key systems", as we call them, and they can be adapted for large or small organizations alike. They also cost considerably less than many people imagine.

Why not get the facts on how one or more "key systems" could help your business run more smoothly and economically. We'll gladly give you an estimate on a system tailored to your own special requirements—naturally without any obligation. Call our Marketing & Sales Department today, or have your secretary send for our free brochure.

'No Coercion' Says Campbell

Local areas have the chance to back out of planning sessions for joint services, but Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell is redoubling efforts to keep everyone in.

He said today diagrams are being prepared to show participants at the second meeting of municipal and unorganized representatives Wednesday.

They will illustrate co-operative arrangements such as water, public health and library services, plus a co-ordinating

Fire Chief Hearings Set Tuesday

An arbitration board saddled with the Saanich firemen-fire-chief's dispute will be asked Tuesday to decide if there's anything to arbitrate.

The three-man board — all lawyers — will hold their first meeting at 10:30 a.m. in the council chamber at Saanich municipal hall.

Their first decision must be whether the firemen's union and their contract have any bearing on the appointment of a fire chief.

Saianich firefighters decided to seek arbitration after a disagreement with council over the appointment of Joseph Sutherland as fire chief.

Chief Sutherland was a first-class fireman with the city fire department until his Saanich appointment.

Saianich firefighters say not enough attention was paid to senior members of the Saanich department before the appointment was made.

Council maintains the chief's job is the only one in the fire department over which council has complete control.

Lawyer for council is D. A. M. Patterson, and lawyer for the union is John Goult.

WEDDING PLANS HIT

LONDON (Reuters) — A national newspaper today objected to Princess Anne being bridesmaid at the Greek royal marriage next month.

The mass-circulation Daily Sketch said in an editorial the presence of Cyprus President Makarios "fresh from flirtation with Moscow and now dallying with Nasser in Egypt" made the presence of any of the British Royal Family unwise.

The Sketch said the Sept. 18 wedding of King Constantine and Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark in Athens will also be attended by Prince Philip, Prince Charles and Prince Michael of Kent.

PAL IN SKY FOR PACIFIC WEATHERMEN

OTTAWA (CP) — The United States' newest weather satellite, sent aloft Friday to begin photographing the global weather picture, may soon help Canadians deal with everything from ice conditions on the Great Lakes to forest fires.

Dr. R. S. Rettie, the National Research Council's officer in charge of satellite reception work, said the council has been receiving about 10 pictures a day from the Nimbus spacecraft and the new system has indicated "enormous potential."

Two areas of Canada should benefit most from the new system, Dr. Rettie said.

The Pacific Coast will really benefit because up until now forecasting out there has been extremely difficult. The satellite should also be very useful in helping transatlantic aviation from Gander, Nfld.

"Local forecasting in the whole country will benefit as well because forecasters will have more information about Arctic weather conditions."

GREEN POTENTIAL

"The whole business is stagnating from the point of view of weather forecasting."

The satellite's findings, combined with other data, will help determine the heat balance of the earth, ice conditions on the Great Lakes, including an indication of when the ice can be expected to break up, flood conditions and even the seriousness of forest fires.

"We will continue to receive the pictures and make them available to the department of transport," Dr. Rettie said. "The new system will be integrated with their normal forecast procedures."

"We think eventually there will be three to five stations across the country."

One of two receiving sets at N.G.V. headquarters was being shipped today to Froboisher Bay where transport department officials will use it to help navigation in the Arctic Circle.

"This will help systemize things up there," Dr. Rettie said. "They won't have to wait for random searching by boats to discover where the ice is thick or where it has broken up."

Red Chinese Widening The Split

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China has announced officially it will boycott a Soviet-sponsored conference to plan a world Communist meeting. It says the day such a meeting is held "will go down in history as the day of the great split in the international Communist movement."

Peking accused the Soviet Union of siding with the United States in the recent Gulf of Tonkin crisis "by actively supporting the U.S. attempt to intervene in Viet Nam through the United Nations."

"We think eventually there will be three to five stations across the country."

Election Date Soon

LONDON (Reuters) — The date of Britain's fall general election is expected to be announced in about two weeks, reliable political sources said here today.

Makarios Wins Nasser Support

NICOSIA (AP) — President Makarios won a pledge of support today from the United Arab Republic in his dispute with Turkish Cypriots on troubled Cyprus as anti-U.S. demonstrations continued in Turkey.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser also warned against outside interference in the island's affairs, said a joint communiqué issued in Alexandria at the conclusion of talks between Nasser and Makarios.

However, Nasser did not specifically pledge military support.

Nasser's pledge to Makarios followed official talks between the two men in Alexandria. The United Arab Republic thus followed the lead of Greece and the Soviet Union in promising help if Cyprus were invaded by Turkey.

The UAR is prepared to provide Cyprus with every possible support for the sake of strengthening the efforts of the Cypriot people in their struggle to safeguard the unity of their island," the communiqué said.

"The two sides agreed that foreign military bases are a threat to international peace," it added.

OBJECTS TO BRITISH

Nasser is known to be opposed to the presence of Western military bases in the eastern Mediterranean. Britain retains two military bases on Cyprus under the 1960 treaty of independence. A British base on Cyprus was used as staging area for the British-French attack on Egypt during the 1956 Suez crisis.

Reliable sources said Makarios and Nasser also discussed a possible shipment of Soviet arms to Cyprus via Egypt, but the communiqué did not indicate this has been discussed.

The rules for nonstop roller skating are simple, "Mr. Hartshorne said. "You can't fall down and you can't stop."

This meant he had to keep moving even while eating.

"I felt a little funny eating a steak out of my hand as I went around," he said.

The skater said he went clockwise, counter-clockwise and backwards to relieve the monotony during his 36-hour marathon.

He was all alone in his quest for the record after eight hours and 44 minutes when Danny McDonald, 132 Niagara dropped out.

Mr. Hartshorne suffered no ill-effects after the marathon except for fatigue and aching muscles in his right leg.

The 25-year-old shipyard worker said he has been skating nightly during the season for four years. He also plays softball in a local industrial league.

CHILDREN LOOT JEWELRY STORE

Caramels Gave the Gang Away

BRINDISI, Italy (AP) — Police today charged seven members of a child gang, ranging in age from eight to 14, with the daring $3,000,000 (55,000) burglary of a jewelry store at nearby Cefalino San Marco.

They said the burglars left not a clue but were traced because some of the boys were handing out caramels to passerby the next day. And one eight-year-old stirred suspicion when he told questioners stubbornly:

"Unless the chief talks, I won't say a word."

Police said the boys climbed through a courtyard window

Miners Stay Put

COVENTRY, England (Reuters) — Two coal miners today completed their first week of a "stay-down" protest half-a-mile below ground in a mine near here.

The two men began their endurance protest for £2 4d ($6.16) — a bonus payment which they claim is due to them.

Both have been fired for refusing to come to the surface.

For a week they have existed on a diet of tea, soup and sandwiches, and little or no sleep. Sleeping in mines is forbidden by law.

Last week many other miners stopped work in sympathy with the two men — Gershon Jones, 43, and Jim Pearce, 33.

Separatists Blamed In Gun Raid

MONTREAL (CP) — An abortive weapons raid Saturday on a Bleury Street firearms shop that left two dead in a gunbattle with police was linked today with the separatist L'Armee Revolutionnaire du Quebec.

"We were expecting that this group would strike soon to obtain weapons," a police source said. "There is no proof, such as papers found on those arrested, to positively connect the group with the raid. But we feel there is a good chance they did it."

President Gamal Abdel Nasser also warned against outside interference in the island's affairs, said a joint communiqué issued in Alexandria at the conclusion of talks between Nasser and Makarios.

However, Nasser did not specifically pledge military support.

Nasser's pledge to Makarios followed official talks between the two men in Alexandria. The United Arab Republic thus followed the lead of Greece and the Soviet Union in promising help if Cyprus were invaded by Turkey.

Teachers Talk Strike

REGINA (CP) — Regina's Elementary Public School teachers will hold a mass meeting tonight to decide whether they will strike in support of wage demands.

Smythe Rejects Deal

VANCOUVER (CP) — Stafford Smythe, president of the Toronto Maple Leafs, has rejected a city offer of a free, 12-year lease on land if he would build an $8,000,000 sports arena, it was disclosed today.

Earlier, police definitely blamed revolutionary minded persons for the late-afternoon raid in the city's financial district. Insp. Roland Perron of the Montreal anti-terrorist squad said the five raiders had "revolutionary tendencies."

He said one was a French-speaking, non-Canadian and none had criminal records in Montreal.

He said one of the victims was killed by the bandits, and the other one may have been shot by a policeman who mistook Polish for a holdup-man in the confusion.

Four bandits were captured. One of them was shot in the thigh and is under heavy guard at St. Luke Hospital.

A spreading dragnet, involving some 4,000 policemen from the three police forces on Montreal Island, was under way to find the fifth bandit.

He said two of the bandits entered the store through the front door and three more waited in a car parked at the back of the store.

One of the first group had a rifle concealed under his coat and the other a loaded rifle magazine clip he quickly inserted into a weapon he asked a store employee to let him see.

A store employee said the latter bandit then pointed the gun at the clerk and announced in French that: "We don't want any money — just rifles and ammunition."

Tough Judge Sworn

QUEBEC (CP) — Claude Wagner, known as a tough judge with both with criminals and with people who are complacent with crime, resigned his position on the bench today and was sworn in as Quebec's solicitor-general.

Passing Plays Collapse; Mustangs, Raiders Fall

Pass defence was the big thing Sunday in the Vancouver Island Juvenile Football League. Victoria Mustangs tossed 11 forward passes at Carnarvon Park, failed to complete any of them, had three intercepted and took a 34-8 thumping from Nanaimo Redmen.

At Campbell River, the Raiders took to the air four times against Victoria Hornets. Three tosses were intercepted, two by defensive halfback Ed Anslow, and Hornets celebrated their debut in the league by chalking up a 14-6 triumph.

Results left Redmen, the defending Island champions, all alone in first place with two straight victories and Hornets tied with Mustangs for second place in the five-team league.

Mustangs, who had been expected to give the powerful Redmen a tough tussle after whipping Campbell River 64-0 in their first game, couldn't get together

The destroyer-escort was updated by addition of variable-depth sonar, helicopter deck and hangar by Victoria Machinery Depot.

A motorist who forced another driver off the road on the Malahat pleaded guilty this morning to impaired driving.

P. G. Brighton, 1329 Denman, was arrested after his car went out of control on Tunnel Hill and crashed into the guard rail. Earlier he had forced another car off the road to avoid a collision, according to evidence.

Magistrate Harold Alder fined Brighton $250 and prohibited him from driving for one year.

A 20-year-old sailor today was fined $50 for being a minor in unlawful possession of liquor. John Atchison, HMCS Saskatchewan, was checked by police Aug. 8 on Johnson Street. He had a bottle of gin and a bottle of rye. The accused was convicted of a similar offence earlier this year.

An 82-year-old Chinese man was convicted today on three charges of contributing to juvenile delinquency.

Lee Woo, 2020 Blanchard, committed the offences, involving three 11-year-old girls, between June 1 and Aug. 15. A psychiatrist, Dr. D. E. Alcorn, said the elderly man showed signs of senility.

Accused was remanded to Sept. 8 for sentence. He is being admitted to hospital.

Victoria Mum-ers Scale Peak

Members of Victoria Chrysanthemum Society put mind over Matterhorn Sunday to capture second place in a PNE floral display contest in which they depicted the famous Swiss peak.

Geoff Holyhead, president of the society, said it was the first time a Victoria club had participated in the competition, won by Point Grey Chrysanthemum Society.

The Victoria display used white mums to capture the Matterhorn's snow-capped peak and gradually blended their blooms into the rust and greens of the timberline.

Technical assistance was offered to them by the Swiss consulate in Vancouver.

Assisting the society president setting up the display were Mrs. T. V. Vaulkhard, Mrs. Lois Freeborn, Andy Anderson, Win Elford, Gordon Bentham and Jim McColl.

The 200 blooms used in the mountain of flowers were supplied by club members.

Victoria Chrysanthemum Society is currently making plans for its major show of the year Sept. 18-19 at Christ Church Memorial Hall.

They are Victorians Peter John Parker, William James Drake and Brian Arthur White, and John Bruce Walde, who was named previously, and from up-island, Margaret Blaize Horner, Port Alberni; Louise Agnes Lorenzen, Ganges; Linda Betty Watchorn, Campbell River, and Carol Louise Wilson, Metlakatla Lake.

William Hope, 21, of 1013 McKenzie, was fined $300 and lost his licence this morning after he pleaded guilty to driving while impaired on Vining Street early Sunday morning.

Crown prosecutor Peter Birrell said Hope collided with a parked car. When questioned by police he denied being the driver and said he had been sitting in the back seat. However eye witnesses said he was behind the steering wheel.

A breathalyzer test showed he had a blood alcohol count of .14 per cent.

The main award of the show is the "Wally" Williams Memorial perpetual challenge trophy for the boy or girl and one horse who score the most points in nine events.

Some of the events include junior jumping, flag picking, equitation-hunting race (over jumps), best-costumed horse or pony and rider.

Stage Set for Greatest Saanich Fair Ever

The stage is set for the greatest fair in the history of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society.

The 96th annual Saanich exhibition, the oldest west of the Great Lakes, over Labor Day weekend will have one of the largest displays of agricultural produce ever exhibited on Vancouver Island.

There will also be a greater variety of entertainment for both adults and youngsters, according to fair officials who have spent months planning the exhibition.

They estimate there will be more than 3,000 entries in the show, ranging from tiny seeds to 2,000 pound bulls.

$6,000 in Prizes

More than $6,000 in prize money will be given out to exhibitors.

The agriculture hall will feature garden produce, such as vegetables of all sorts, fruits, home baking, flowers, needlecraft, hobbies, Indian crafts and photography.

On the fair grounds there will be on exhibition 200 head of cattle from Vancouver Island and mainland farms, sheep, goats, rabbits, poultry, fancy birds and swine.

Side attractions include a Vancouver Island Budgerigar Society show. Entries will include budgies, canaries and foreign birds.

Midway, Exhibits

There will also be a midway operated by the Sidney Rotary Club and an exhibition of farm machinery.

Fair officials this year are extending Saturday night entertainment until 11 p.m. During the evening the midway will be in operation and all exhibition halls open.

In addition, there will be a cutting horse competition held in the horse ring. Flood lights are being erected for the event which is one of the major attractions of the show.

Fair officials, who anticipate a record attendance of 15,000, have arranged to provide adequate parking facilities for visitors.

Ample Parking

Apart from the parking lot on the fair grounds, there will be unlimited parking on the east side of Saanich Road at the corner of Mount Newton Cross Road.

Mr. Wagg said weekend meetings with city and police officials produced an analysis of 14 items that were not originally included and could be reviewed.

CHANGE DROPPED

He also listed 24 items that could be changed or dropped from the police building reconstruction specifications—such as repairing the present police shooting range instead of building a completely new one.

The fair will be opened by Lieutenant-Governor G. R. Peakes.

The spotlight on Saturday will be on 4-H club competitions. Young people will participate in judging cattle, goats and rabbits and will give public demonstrations of agricultural or club work.

Junior Horse Show

They will also compete in inter-club competitions and showmanship classes.

Another big attraction will be the junior horse show which in the past has been held on Sunday. It starts at 1 p.m. and is open to young people up to the age of 18 years.

The main award of the show is the "Wally" Williams Memorial perpetual challenge trophy for the boy or girl and one horse who score the most points in nine events.

Road to Being Beautiful Begins With Cleanliness

By PENNY SAVER

It has been said and written time and again that one very seldom sees a "born" beauty. Most are self-made. These are the women who have time, taste and good judgment. They have created their own looks.

Living as we do today, with unbending schedules, diets and tensions, there are very few of us who don't need help of some kind.

Real beauty begins with cleanliness, for no complexion can look its best while pores are clogged with dirt and oil.

Today I'd like to give you a few ideas on how to keep your particular skin type clean and fresh.

An ideal cleanser for those with a dry skin type and oily patches around nose and eyes is a triple formula cleanser that sells from $2.25 up. This mild and milky solution copes with and cleanses skins subject to both flakiness and oiliness and helps to retain moisture in dry skin.

Newest cleanser is in the line of a combination toner and conditioner that looks and feels like fresh cold spring water and leaves your skin feeling tighter and brighter.

It is available in compact non-woven squares that are ideal for packing along in purse or suitcase for a quick refreshing. Packets sell at 20 for $4.

Once your skin has been properly treated at the start of a day, it is not hard to keep it looking fresh and moist all day long. But, to ensure this, here are two more products I'd like to tell you about.

The first is a special rose-tinted moisture cream that is designed to hold surface moisture and keep dryness at a minimum. It helps to replace natural oils and is recommended as a lubricating cream for young skins—normal or oily. Price is $2.50 or $3.75.

The second is another cream that encourages surface stimulation and is an excellent treatment for blemished skin. Combine the two and you have a perfect base for turning an exhausting day into the start of a perfect evening.

Herbert Hoover Considers Youth Precious Resource

The distinguished American, Herbert Hoover, celebrated his 90th birthday on August 10. I know of no one who typifies the spirit of youth as Mr. Hoover.

He has always been deeply concerned with what he calls, "our most precious natural resource—youth." At the age of 90, and after a serious illness, he is still vitally interested in the Boys Clubs of America.

He has stated that his goal is 1,000 Boys Clubs for 1,000,000 deserving boys. Of course the expansion program for Boys Clubs will never end but it will concentrate on this goal during the rest of this year.

Today there are 600 clubs with 600,000 members. These clubs promote juvenile decency instead of juvenile delinquency and teams instead of gangs. They promote healthy exercise, provide hobby training and a place to read and do homework. They are havens for these boys.

Mr. Hoover's interest in youth goes back to World War I. He played a large part in saving the lives of hundreds of thousands of Belgian children. His work in breaking the food blockade of that country has been forgotten by many. He not only got supplies through, but arranged for special balanced meals for Belgian youngsters long before the "hot lunch at school" was ever thought of. Of

It sure isn't style that sells the Volvo 544.

Let's see what does. First, the 544 gets over 30 miles to the gallon like the little economy cars. Second, the 544 out-accelerates other popular-priced compacts in every speed range. Third, the 544 is virtually indestructible and proves it at trade-in time. Now if you think a compact should be stylish, we also have the Volvo Canadian. It does everything the 544 does only it looks prettier doing it. Next time you have a dull moment on your hands, come in and drive a Volvo. It'll liven up your day.

DEAR ABBY: It is bad enough to live in a neighborhood where there are several dogs and cats, but my husband is just as bad. When one of these dogs starts to bark, my husband barks back and sets up a chain of barking that disturbs the whole block. If a cat meows, my husband meows back at them, too. Then the dogs start up and you never heard such a racket. My husband thinks he is being funny, but last night I thought the top of my head was going to explode. He is just like a big kid. He says, "Well, THEY started it." Have you got any advice for me?

HEAD COMING OFF

DEAR HEAD: If the dogs bark at night, report their owners to your police department. If they bark during the day, report them to the SPCA. If they still bark, muzzle your husband.

DEAR ABBY: Is it considered good taste to send a wedding invitation to relatives who live a great distance from where the wedding will take place, knowing perfectly well that they will not attend the wedding? Please put this in the paper as I would like to settle a difference of opinion.

Separatists Blamed In Gun Raid Killings

MONTREAL (CP) — An abortive weapons raid Saturday on a Bleury Street firearms shop that left two dead in a gunbattle with police was linked today with the separatist l'Armee Revolutionnaire du Quebec.

"We were expecting that this group would strike soon to obtain weapons," a police source said. "There is no proof, such as papers found on those arrested, to positively connect the group with the raid. But we feel there is a good chance they did it."

Victims of the furious gunfire were Leslie MacWilliams, 58, vice-president of the International Firearms Company where the raid occurred, and Alfred Pinish, 37, a store employee. Eight other employees in the store when the raid occurred were not hurt.

Earlier, police definitely blamed revolutionary minded persons for the late-afternoon raid in the city's financial district. Insp. Roland Perron of the Montreal anti-terrorist squad said the five raiders had "revolutionary tendencies."

He said one was a French-speaking, non-Canadian and none had criminal records in Montreal.

He said one of the victims was killed by the bandits, and the other one may have been shot by a policeman who mistook Pinish for a holdup-man in the confusion.

Four bandits were captured. One of them was shot in the

PAL IN SKY FOR PACIFIC WEATHERMEN

OTTAWA (CP) — The United States' newest weather satellite, sent aloft Friday to begin photographing the global weather picture, may soon help Canadians deal with everything from ice conditions on the Great Lakes to forest fires.

Dr. R. S. Rettie, the National Research Council's officer in charge of satellite reception work, said the council has been receiving about 10 pictures a day from the Nimbus spacecraft and the new system has indicated "enormous potential."

Two areas of Canada should benefit most from the new system, Dr. Rettie said.

"The Pacific Coast will really benefit because up until now forecasting out there has been extremely difficult. The satellite should also be very useful in helping transatlantic aviation from Gander, Nfld."

"Local forecasting in the whole country will benefit as well because forecasters will have more information about Arctic weather conditions."

GREAT POTENTIAL

The whole business is staggering from the point of view of weather forecasting."

The satellite's findings, combined with other data, will help determine the heat balance of the earth, ice conditions on the Great Lakes, including an indication of when the ice can be expected to break up, flood conditions and even the seriousness of forest fires.

"We will continue to receive the pictures and make them available to the department of transport," Dr. Rettie said. "The new system will be integrated with their normal forecast procedures."

"We think eventually there will be three to five stations across the country."

One of two receiving sets at NGV headquarters was being shipped today to Frobisher Bay where transport department officials will use it to help navigate in the Arctic Circle.

"This will help systemize things up there," Dr. Rettie said. "They won't have to wait for random searching by boats to discover where the ice is thick or where it has broken up."

Miners Stay Put

COVENTRY, England (Reuters) — Two coal miners

today completed their first week of a "stay-down" protest half a mile below ground in a mine near here.

The two men began their protest on Friday evening at Schofield Roller Gardens on Niagara Street.

He set what is believed to be a world record of 36 hours and two minutes of nonstop skating over the weekend and then went back for more Sunday evening.

Both have been fired for refusing to come to the surface.

For a week they have existed on a diet of tea, soup and sandwiches, and little or no sleep. Sleeping in mines is forbidden by law.

Last week many other miners stopped work in sympathy with the two men — Gershon Jones, 43, and Jim Pearce, 33.

RCMP Denies Coldwell Spied Upon

OTTAWA (CP) — Justice Minister Favreau said emphatically today in the Commons that the RCMP has never investigated M. J. Coldwell, former national leader of the CCF party, "or found any cause to do so."

The statement was greeted by an all-party outburst of desk-thumping applause.

Stanley Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre) had asked Mr. Favreau about a statement by Calvin Macdonald, self-styled former RCMP undercover agent, that he spied on Mr. Coldwell in 1960 on RCMP orders. The allegation was made Saturday in Barrie.

Mr. Favreau said he had anticipated the question. The RCMP files had been checked thoroughly and there was never such an investigation.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker termed Mr. Macdonald's statement "beyond contempt." He said all MPs were delighted to hear Mr. Favreau's reply.

Mr. Coldwell, now living in retirement in Ottawa, headed the CCF party from 1942 until 1958. He was member of Parliament for Rosetown-Biggar, a Saskatchewan seat, from 1935 until his defeat in the 1958 general election. He was appointed to the Privy Council in June.

CHILDREN LOOT JEWELRY STORE

Caramels Give the Gang Away

BRINDISI, Italy (AP) — Police today charged seven members of a child gang, ranging in age from eight to 14, with the daring $3,000,000 ($5,000) burglary of a jewelry store at nearby Cellino San Marco.

They said the burglars left not a clue but were traced

because some of the boys were handing out caramels too liberally the next day. And one eight-year-old stirred suspicion when he told questions stubbornly:

"Unless the chief talks, I won't say a word."

Police said the boys climbed through a courtyard window

into the building where the jewelry store owner, Mrs. Rafaella di Marco, lived in rooms adjoining the store. They tiptoed down a corridor past the room where Mrs. di Marco slept, entered the store and got away with all the jewelry on display.

First tip that the job might have been done by youngsters came from a policeman who recalled seeing several boys loitering near the store in the evening. He remembered them because they were not children who live in the neighborhood.

The police followed a trail of liberal gifts of candy some boys had been handing out. And that led to the eight-year-old whose words, police said, convinced them they were dealing with a well-organized gang.
